Disciform scar

A disciform scar is the end-stage manifestation of untreated CNV, namely formed by fibroblasts and inflammatory cells.

Angiographically, it typically shows late staining (Fig. 30).

View PDF